

Contents

---

|   |  |
|---|--|
| 9   | Introduction   |
| Part One Respect for life and the founding of bioethics |  |
| 21  | H. Tristram Engelhardt JrRespect for life and the foundations of bioethics  |
| 37  | Anne Fagot-LargeaultNormativity and ethics  |
| 42  | Gilbert HottoisScience between convictions and responsibility   |
| Part Two Animal versus man                              |  |
| 63  | Luc FerryEurope and its nations in the face of animal rights  |
| 74  | Alain ProchiantzClaude Bernard, Sade and the respect for life   |
| 93  | Hiroshi YamashitaAsian attitudes to animal experimentation  |
| Part Three The right to experiment                      |  |
| 113   | Hans RuhTests on animals: using or utilizing animals  |
| 125   | Albin EserLegal aspects of experimentation on the living:a comparative survey                                 |
| 156   | György ÁdámThe role of education in the use of animalsin physiology   |
| Part Four Human control of life                         |  |
| 165   | Noëlle LenoirRespect for life and the law of the living   |
| 201   | Kenneth J. RyanDefining and respecting human life in researchand medicine: the case for human embryo research |
| 211   | William ByneBiological influences on sexual orientation:are there moral implications?                         |
| 221   | References   |
| 231   | Contributors   |
| 235   | Index  |