

Contents

Foreword	11
Acknowledgements	12
Part I. Judging Life.	13
1. Paul Ricœur : Prudential Judgment, Deontological Judgment and Reflexive Judgment in Medical Ethics	15
I. The Prudential Judgment	16
II. The Deontological Judgment.	19
III. The Reflexive Judgment	23
2. Anne Fagot-Largeault : Evaluating and Judging: Bionorms vs. Human Judgment	27
Introduction	27
A Basic Ambiguity	29
Bionorms	31
Human Judgment	36
Conclusion.	38
3. Warren Thomas Reich : The Search for Moral Meaning: A New Era for Bioethics	41
Introduction: Bioethics as Problem	41
The Divorce of Norm and Meaning in Bioethics	42
Methodological Shift Regarding Norm and Moral Meaning	44
Recovering Meaning in Moral Discourse.	48
Retrieving the Pursuit of Meaning in the Practice of Contemporary Bioethics	51
The pursuit of meaning in bioethics	52
An ethic of moral response	53
Care: the power to discover moral meaning.	55
Attention: the door to moral interpretation	56
Narrative: the root of moral rationality	58
Moral agency and intentionality: virtue and casuistry	60
Conclusion.	61
4. Peter Kemp : Bioethics in Law and Biolaw in Ethics	63
Basic Conceptions of Ethics and Law.	63
Ethics in General	63
Law in General.	65

The New Dimension of Ethics and Law.	67
Ethics to Bioethics.	67
Law to Biolaw.	68
Bios in Modern Biology.	70
Bioethics in Law.	71
The Ethical Debate.	72
Ethical Principles.	73
The Sources of Law.	73
Biolaw in Ethics.	76
Part II. Justice in the Living World.	79
5. Evandro Agazzi: Man and Nature in Ethics.	81
Morality and Ethics.	82
The Subjects and the Objects of Moral Actions.	83
Some Features of Traditional Ethics.	83
The Context of a Secularized Ethics.	84
The Concept of Responsibility.	85
The Concept of Respect.	86
The Ontological Hierarchy.	87
A Cosmocentric Perspective.	89
The Natural and the Artificial.	90
6. Godfrey B. Tangwa: Bioethics, Customs and Laws in the Present
Situation of Africa.	93
Introduction.	93
The State of Affairs in Pre-Colonial Africa.	95
Colonial and Post Colonial Africa.	100
Conclusion.	102
7. Georges Thill in Collaboration with Dominique Lambert: Towards
a Responsive and Responsible Reshaping of Bio/Eco-Ethics. Animal Experimentation and Production in Question and Enlightenment on
Animal Rights, Welfare and Epistemology.	105
Abstract.	105
Horizon.	105
Ideological Context.	106
From Good Life to Animal Welfare, Towards Bio/eco-ethics.	106
Globality, Complexity and Networking.	110
Proposal.	112
Annexe 1: PRELUDE.	115
Annexe 2: La Déclaration des Droits de l'Animal de 1989 (version amendée du texte d'origine, 1978)	116

8. Jennifer Gunning: Bioethics and Biology.	117
9. Stacey E. Ake: Man as Monoculture: The Philosophical and
Evolutionary Outcomes of Market-Driven Genetics.	123

Part III. The Rights of Living Organisms. 131

10. Peter Singer: Extending Ethics Beyond Our Own Species.	133
Introduction.	133
Intrinsic Value beyond the Species Boundary.	135
The Implications of the Animal Liberation View.	138
Objections.	138
Intrinsic Value Beyond the Boundary of Consciousness?.	139
11. Michel Ansay and Michael Singleton: Societies and Their Animals.	143
A) THE NORTH/SOUTH DIVIDE.	144
1. Beauty.	145
2. Solicitude.	145
3. Belonging to the house.	146
4. Death.	146
B) NEAR AND FAR.	147
1. Blackie, White.	147
2. An evening in Burkina-Faso.	147
3. Pets, animal companions.	147
C) POWER AND SUBMISSION.	148
1. Power over the animal.	148
2. Power over man.	149
D) WHO SPEAKS?	150
1. A timid "I"; subject animals.	150
Native stories.	150
Transformation stories.	150
"The animal subjects" (of a life?) T. Regan.	151
The "alter ego".	151
2. A "you", a "you also" (P. Ricœur).	151
3. "We".	152
The same language, that of DNA.	153
One same earth.	153
One same community of suffering.	153
One same rejection.	154
The same final utopia, a Paradise.	154
4. "They".	154
E) THIS IS NOT A CONCLUSION.	155
F) AN EPISTEMOLOGICAL EPILOGUE: "We are not Nuer!"	156

12. Marco Olivetti: From Human Rights to Biorights	167
Part IV. Bioethical Legislation	177
13. Deryck Beyleveld and Roger Brownsword: Legal Argumentation in Biolaw	179
Introduction	179
1. Legal Argumentation as a Species of Moral Argumentation	185
2. Legal Argumentation, Human Rights, and Contingent Arguments to the PGC	192
(i) Anyone who considers that anyone has a human right to anything at all, must, on pain of contradicting this premise, consider that the PGC is the criterion determining the validity/legitimacy of all actions and principles for action	193
(ii) Any legal system that recognises that there are any human rights must, on pain of contradicting this recognition, treat the PGC as the criterion of legal validity (and, thus, as the guiding standard in legal argumentation)	196
(iii) Avoidance of the implications of the argument	199
Dualist theories of municipal and international law	203
(iv) Summary	205
3. Legal Argumentation in Bio-Disputes Involving Marginal Agents	206
(i) PPAs Alone are to be Held as Bearers of Rights under the PGC	207
(ii) Four Principles for the Protection of Marginal Agents Under the PGC	208
(i) The Principle of Proportionality	209
(ii) The Principle of Vicarious Protection	211
(iii) The Principle of Potentiality	212
(iv) The Contractual Principle	213
(iii) Uncertainty and the Precautionary Principle	215
(iv) Summary	216
Conclusion	216
14. Noëlle Lenoir: Legal Argumentation in Biolaw	219
Introduction: The Irresistible Rise of the Bioethics' Movement	219
1. The spontaneous rise of ethical reflection on the life sciences	219
2. The specific characteristics of Bioethics laws	220
I Bioethical Laws and Fundamental Values	222
II Bioethical Laws in the Context of Social Practices	225
Conclusion	227

15. Richard Bawden: The Complexity of Bioethics As a Challenge to Legislation	229
Abstract	229
Preface	230
The Purposefulness of Agriculture	231
Agriculture and the Nature of Nature	235
An Agricultural Bioethic	239
16. Judith Miller: Is Legislation in Bioethics Desirable? An Exploration of Aspects of the Intersection of Bioethics and Biolaw	243
Terms and context	246
Ethics of research with human subjects, biolaw or guidelines?	247
The 1978 Guidelines	248
The 1987 Guidelines	250
1996 Draft Code of Conduct	253
Protection of children in Canadian health sciences research	255
Guideline positions on the ethics of research with children	255
Quebec Laws on Research with Children	258
Summary of aspects of bioethics and biolaw arising in the examples	260
Advantages of Bioethics through Guidelines or Professional Codes of Conduct	261
Disadvantages of Bioethics through Guidelines or Professional Codes of Conduct	261
Advantages of Bioethics through Biolaw	261
Disadvantages of Bioethics through Biolaw	261
Additional key aspects of the relationship of bioethics and biolaw	262
Professional ethos as a determinant of attitude towards biolaw	262
Power, Bioethics and Biolaw	264
Framework biolaw for bioethical complexity	264
The Timing and Nature of Biolaw	265
Conclusion and Questions	266

Part V. European Legislation 269

17. P. Auquier, C. Manuel, D. Reviron, I. Sari, C. Molines: The WHO's Guidelines for Kidney Transplantation. Are They Appropriate in Europe?	271
Abstract	271
Introduction	272
Purpose of the Study	272
Materials and Methods	272
Results	273
1. Chronology (Table 1)	273

2. Consent Procedures (Table 2)	274
3. Separation of Responsibilities of Medical Teams (Table 3)	275
4. Removal of Organs from a Living Donor (table 4)	275
5. Removal of Organs from Living Minors for Transplantation Purposes (table 5)	277
6. Commercial Transactions – Advertising – Legal and Economic Aspects (table 6)	277
7. Procedures for the Distribution of Organs (Table 7)	279
8. Anonymity (Table 8)	279
9. The Legally Incapacitated (table 8)	280
10. Administrative Measures (table 8)	281
11. Purposes of the Removal of Organs (table 9)	281
12. Respect for the Dead Body (table 9)	281
Conclusion	282
 18. D. Hairion, V. Aghababian, C. Manuel, P. Auquier: European Legislation and Prenatal Diagnosis	285
Abstract	285
Introduction	286
Table 1: Rules of Conduct for the Practice of Genetic Testing and Screening	288
Table 2: Access to Genetic Testing	288
Table 3: Protection of Data and Confidentiality	289
Table 4: Research	289
 19. Philippe Terriou: Ethical Problems Raised by Assisted Reproduction Techniques – Legislative Measures in Europe	291
Problems raised by IVF-ET and embryo freezing?	292
The problem of sperm donation	292
Oocyte donation	293
Embryo donation	293
Embryo research	294
Pre-Implantation Diagnosis (PID)	294
 20. Lars Reuter: The Concept of “Autonomy” and its Argumentative Value	297
 References for Individual Chapters	301
 The Contributors	311
 List of Papers (in Alphabetical Order by Authors’ Names)	313